Our towel rail elements are suitable for electric-only and dual-fuel installations. Each element is supplied boxed, with a 1/2" chrome tee piece and 1/2" plug.

An internal 75°c thermostat ensures the liquid temperature in the rail is maintained between 40-54°c. The element must be submerged in liquid before being operated. Not doing so (running dry) will cause the element to burn itself out, as a safety feature, destroying the element and voiding the warranty.

MONOBLOC TAIL ADAPTORS

When fitting a flexible hose swivel nut directly on to an isolating valve, the chamfered edges on the valve can cut into the washer, causing damage and potentially causing a leak.

Our Monobloc Tail Adaptors can be fitted straight into a 15mm isolating valve, creating a flat face for the flexible hose swivel nut, thus preventing damage and leaks. This is also a cost-effective alternative to fitting a separate length of pipe with a MI fitting.

Available in two sizes (1/2" and 3/8"), each size is available in loose bags of 10, or in blister-packed pairs for display.
